Childs, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors have given them up. ## PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Hunting is reported to be good at Lake Tahoe.
Charles Hymer has been sentenced to be hanged on Thursday, Nov. 20th. The Mexican population of San Buenaventura enjoyed four days of bull fighting last week.
Henry Hart, of McDowell Hill, El Dorado county, shot and killed himself near Folsom Tuesday.

The fire which has been raging in the mountains of Santa Cruz were extinguished by the rains of Monday.
The Ohio Record reports that the Fair of the Upper Sacramento Agricultural Society, held there last week, was a financial success.

A Mexican horse thief named Bolso Chavez was shot and mortally wounded by another Mexican at the New Idria mine, a few days ago.

On Friday evening last Jose Vasquez was stopped by two men on the Almaden road, Santa Clara county, and robbed of $5, all the money he had about him.

A Stockton merchant fired eight shots the other evening at a gang of burglars, and never drew blood. Strange to say, he had not received his early training either on the police force or in a newspaper office.

The Bodie people want the county seat of Mono transferred there, and a recent petition to the Board of Supervisors to have an election called on the question was denied because the Board declared it not to be a legal petition.

Joe Mengetty, who lives near Kingsburg, Fresno county, is the owner of a cow that last year gave birth to triplets, and about two weeks ago she gave birth to twins—making five calves inside of one year. All are living and looking well.

The Inyo Independent says: Mr. Zaun has growing in his garden at Lone Pine a three year old apple tree, which after maturing one full crop of fine fruit this season, commenced a second one, and now bears several well-grown apples.

The preliminary examination of William Garrard for the killing of Simeon Barclay at Carlin, last Friday, was commenced in that place Monday and closed Wednesday morning. The case was submitted upon the testimony of the prosecution and Mr. Garrard was held to answer before the next grand jury, with bail set at $10,000, which was promptly furnished by Geo. Russell and Dr. Henderson of Elko.

The Sandemans are a peculiar religious people of Dalnary, Conn. They have no pastor or sermons; but in their church is a circular table around which they sit, on Sunday, and discuss scriptural texts.

Fifty thousand pilgrims from all parts of Poland assembled at Gietrzewald on Sept. 8th, and the Virgin appeared as in former years, at the 8 A. M. service, but instead of four seeing her, as last year, there were only two, a widow and a girl. The details they separately gave perfectly agree.

Socialism in Germany has not been crushed by Bismarck. A recent funeral of a prominent leader of the Socialist party was attended by sympathizers and deputations from all parts of the empire and from Switzerland, and a procession numbering from 20,000 to 30,000 men followed the body to the grave.

A commercial traveler having refused leave to his maid-servant to take his daughter to the skating rink in Versailles, France, they did not appear next morning, and on the bedroom being burst open both were found suffocated. A note in the maid's writing said: "You shall no longer have your daughter; I take her to a better world." Their ages were 26 and 14.

William Lydie and Charles Morris were a young woman's rival suitors, at Asheville, N. C. After considerable coquetish hesitation she chose Morris and promised to marry him. The revengeful Lydie caught Morris in the woods, bound him to a tree, and threatened him with a knife in a horrible manner, for which the feud has been continued to sixty years' imprisonment.

PAVILION NOTES

R. P. Chapin shows by unanswerable argument, consisting of several hundred varieties of home raised plants, that there is nothing to prevent fuchsias, geraniums, dahlias, begonias and other pretty and delicate plants from thriving here. He sells his wares as cheap as they can be bought below, and as they are acclimated to the climate, their chances for life are as ten to one as compared with those bought in California at fancy prices.

John Sunderland has a case of goods from his store at the pavilion. Nearly all of Mr. Sunderland's goods are manufactured especially for this market at the great factories, and his hats and caps, boots and shoes are just the thing for Nevada's climate. The space in the GAZETTE is so much taken up now that lengthy descriptions are impossible, but all are advised to call and see Mr. Sunderland's goods.

Strassburger & Co.'s display at the pavilion might be imitated by others to advantage. If more of the rough walls of the huge building were covered with handsome carpets and blankets the effect would be good. The goods on exhibition are only fair samples of their immense stock of fine goods at their store on Commercial Row.

Rock and Rye will hereafter be one of the institutions in Reno. It has gained a solid footing and will be kept in every house as a cure and preventive for coughs and colds. Mr. Chesley, the proprietor, has made many friends in Reno during his stay.

The Agricultural Society offers no premium for exhibits for clothing and furnishing goods. This is to be regretted as the White House makes a fine display in the pavilion of articles in that line.

The absolute jewelry has developed a new taste in Nevada's ladies. It is simple, elegant and tasteful and very cheap as compared with gold. Mr. Jackson is selling it off rapidly. Call at his stand in the pavilion.

R. D. Mills exhibits 31 different kinds of horse shoes and racing plates. He makes shoes with toe weights.

James E. Ferrill, who lived in Reno two years ago, has returned from Leadville, Colorado, and means to remain here.

—Old Aunt Vivia Lockett died this morning of old age. She was a colored woman, born a slave, and freed by Lincoln's proclamation. No one knows how old she was, but it is supposed that she was over eighty. She has no known relations.

They Walked Into the Ditch.

That two men last night walked into the big ditch that crosses Virginia street near the river is a fact which indicates the necessity for additional planking or other protection to pedestrians at that point. The names of the unfortunate who thus took an involuntary leg bath in the cold water last night are not known. But they were heard to enter the ditch, and their loud and malignant curses fairly curled the blood of the prize beet in the pavilion.

Change in To-Morrow's Races.

Surprise, Wm. Tell, Patchen Girl, and Proctor are entered for the trotting race in the 2:35 class, to come off to-morrow. The other two regular races having failed to fill, the society has arranged for a trot between Tommy Gates and Belle H. also for another trotting race between Maggie C. Red Cross and St. Helena.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE is the cheapest paper in the state. Two dollars and a half per year.

Grand Ball.

There will be a grand ball to-night at the theatre after the performance is over. Music under the direction of Prof. Langue. Conrad Zick, manager.

A MAN MURDERED.

Mike Groody's Body Found in the River—The Wounds on the Head—Robbed Last Night—What Is Known of the Victim—The Inquest To-Night.

About six o'clock this morning the body of a man was found in a shallow pool of the river bed, about fifty feet east of the V. & T. railroad bridge, and some twenty feet from the waste gate of the Lake Flour Mills. Its situation was such that it must either have been washed out of the flume or deposited by human agency in the place where it was found. The corpse was removed to the morgue in the rear of Sanders & Neal's undertaking establishment. Its condition indicates that it had been in the water for at least six hours. There are three wounds, apparently punctures, on the head. One on the crown and the others at the back of the skull. An autopsy will be held this evening, and the coroner's inquest will follow.

THE BODY WAS IDENTIFIED

this morning as that of Mike Groody, a millwright by trade, who had been working as a carpenter in Reno for a short time. He had been employed by Butterfield, the builder, and recently worked on Oaks' new building at the corner of Virginia and Second streets. The deceased recently told one of his acquaintances that he had a wife and four children in Pennsylvania. Groody is said to be a man of intemperate habits. About half-past eight o'clock last evening he was in the office of the American House. He there told the barkeeper that he of $15 by a stranger in the Palace saloon. Groody said that he was going to get $15 more, and would come back to the American House about ten o'clock. So far as known that was the last seen of him by his acquaintances. When he left the hotel he was perfectly sober, and had not been drinking. The general belief today is that the man died by violence, and the probability is that he was murdered. The wounds in his head could hardly have been self-inflicted, and the situation of the body when found this morning does not admit of the supposition that he had fallen or thrown himself from the bridge. Besides there are no bruises on either the head or any other part of the body such as must have resulted from a fall. The wounds in the head appear to be well defined punctures, as if made by some blunt instrument. The autopsy and inquest this evening may throw more light on the affair.

The Theatre.

"A woman of the People" was effectively presented at the Nevada Theatre last evening to a good audience. The acting was excellent and brought out frequent rounds of applause. Miss Nellie Holbrook as Madeline sustained the leading part, and displayed great power of characterization. H. M. Brown as Remy, and J. S. Lindsey as Bertrand, were often applauded. The other parts were all well filled. "Woman of the People" is full of sensational incidents. Its tone is good throughout and it is destined to have a long lease of popular favor. Piper's company did especially well last night, and their performance was heartily praised by all who witnessed it.

This evening Dion Boucicault's great drama of the "Shaugbraun" will be presented. This well known and deservedly popular play ought to draw a crowded house. It has been in a careful preparation for some time, and the public may feel sure of a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment.

Fighting Last Night.

Two fights disturbed the peace of Centre street last evening. The first occurred in a dance house at a late hour on that thoroughfare in which both combatants were pumpeled. And after one of the pugilists had sought repose in his little bed at Mrs. Ceuch's lodging house, hard by, the privacy of his room was invaded and himself unmercifully beaten by his former adversary. Considerable uproar was created during these two episodes of the night, but it could not have been heard by the watchmen, as no arrests were made.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE published yesterday is a model newspaper. It contains in an attractive form the latest news from all parts of the world. It is printed on fine paper with large type, and is an excellent family paper.

Those Norman Horses.

In the stock parade yesterday the handsome Norman horses exhibited by Jas. A. Perry of Wilmington, Ill., were greatly admired. Their fine color, arched crests, symmetrical proportions and proud step were much remarked. Some of the ranchers in the neighborhood of Reno were talking of buying a stallion of this breed to improve the stock of draft and farm horses in this county. They could not make a better investment than to purchase one of the fine animals shown by Mr. Perry.

A Friend of the Poor.

Louis Whiting, the colored porter who has been seen at all of the fairs held in California and Nevada for years, has had charge of the judge's stand during the week. He pays particular attention to the comfort of reporters and is a great favorite with them as well as with the judges.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE will be sent on trial six months for one dollar. Try it.

How a So-Called Father Was Deceived By His So-Called Son.

Dr. Woods of Pyramid, is a gentleman well known for his benevolence. He has been in Reno during the fair, and found here a friendless orphan of ten or twelve summers, whose unprotected and destitute situation won the kind-hearted doctor's warmest sympathy. Yesterday the poor lad had made such inroads on the good doctor's affections that he determined to adopt the boy. The doctor took him to a clothing store and purchased for his protegee a complete outfit of underclothing and a fine new suit of winter clothes, besides shoes and various other articles for the lad's comfort. The grateful orphan shed tears of joy and gratitude over his gifts. His benefactor fairly glowed with satisfaction at the sight of the happiness he had caused. But last evening the doctor's adopted son, having donned his new garments, struck out for some fresh scene of operations in his new, gift shoes, and left the doctor all forlorn. The bereaved physician, whose adopted son is thus probably lost to him forever, will try to get along without a boy in future.

A Beautiful Spot.

Visitors express the greatest admiration for Reno's improved appearance. The town bears no trace of the fire which swept off in smoke six months ago, and today there is not a busier, neater or more enterprising place of its size in this country. The land surrounding it has also been developed to a great deal in the last year. The view looking south from the hill in front of Mr. Marsh's house is one of the most beautiful on the continent. The vivid green of the alfalfa fields stretch away to the massive mountains on which King Winter already sits enthroned. Avenues of trees lead to handsome houses smothering in orchards and ornamental groves. To the left lies the handsome fair ground, and right in front, as straight as a line, lies Virginia street, reaching for ten miles without a curve. Many visitors say the view reminds them of Santa Clara county.

These will be exciting races.

The Last Races Yesterday.

In the race between Star, Wm. Tell, Proctor, and Patchen Girl, Patchen sold for $80, Proctor 21, field, $15. Patchen Girl won the first heat, Tell second, Star third, Proctor fourth. It was a very pretty heat, and was won handsomely by Patchen Girl. Time, 2:11. The second heat was won by Wm. Tell in 2:37, the Girl being ahead, but broke before reaching the wire, and ran under it. Proctor was third and Star fourth.

The Tomb of "Old Brin."

John Rosser, of Sierra Valley, who was in Virginia yesterday with a lot of venison, told an Enterprise reporter that "Old Brin" is dead and he has seen his tomb. He says: "Last Saturday afternoon while hunting far up in the main Sierra, at the head of a deep and densely wooded canyon, I came upon a sort of a cairn of small stones erected against the face of a large perpendicular rock. Painted on the face of this rock with what seemed to be a composition of pitch and gunpowder was the following inscription: 'Here lies Old Brin: Killed September 10, 1888, by Kettle Bally Brown. I had to do it—case of self defense.' This settles it."

The Carson Guards Win.

Much interest was shown in the Military Tournament this morning. The Nationals and the Washington Guards of Virginia and the Carson Guards competed for the prize. Col. Younger, Lieut. E. W. Olesley and Gen. T. J. Clunie were the judges of the drill. The skirmish was dull, although the parade of the several companies was excellent. Gen. Clunie, in a few neat remarks, awarded to the Carson Guards the Society's prize and the medal presented by C. C. Stevenson.

The site of the works is about half a mile east of the mine.

Frightful Railroad Accident.
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 10.—A serious and painful accident occurred on the Michigan Central R. R., a short distance east of the Junction about 1 o'clock this morning. The Pacific express train, bound west, which left Detroit ten minutes late, collided with a switch engine on the main track at that place, telescoping the baggage and express car, and piling the remaining coaches, eleven in number, on top of the others. The first coach was filled with emigrants, most of whom were killed or seriously injured. Many occupants of the other coaches were also killed or injured. It is supposed that there are about 20 to 35 passengers killed, and 20 to 30 wounded. The majority of the number are thought to be emigrants and second class passengers. Physicians and surgeons were at once summoned from Jackson to the scene of the disaster, and a special train carrying physicians left Detroit at five A. M. A large force of railroad employees, together with a large number of the citizens of Jackson, are on the ground engaged in the work of extricating bodies from the wreck. The railroad officials and surgeons are busily at work among the wounded, doing everything in their power to alleviate their suffering. Names of the killed and wounded will be sent as soon as can be ascertained.

RECOVERING THE BODIES.
Up to noon 18 dead bodies had been taken from the wreck of the express train, 10 of whom were taken from the emigrant car and have not yet been identified. The identified killed are: M. Filbert, engineer of express train; C. B. Smith, the Jackson fireman of the express; John H. Rice, wife and daughter, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Garland and 10 year old daughter, of Philadelphia; Louis Morgan Buckingham, of Canada; and an infant daughter of Mrs. Gen. A. J. Jones, of Ohio, Pa.

THE LIST OF THE WOUNDED.
The following is a list of the wounded as far as can be ascertained: M. D. Carlisle, express messenger, of Detroit, collar bone broken; A. A. Bennett, baggage man, of Detroit, badly cut and bruised; Wm. Buggy, Troy, Vt., right leg and thigh crushed; Danl. Finn, of Chicago, head cut and bruised; S. M. Sparlin, of Philadelphia, cut on head and hurt internally; Arthur Rodgers, of Philadelphia, cut and bruised, but not dangerously; Reuben Carter, of Gardner, Ill., hands cut off and left thigh broken; Geo. A. Cunningham, of Janesville, Arkansas, left arm broken in two places; Hoo Miasdas, of Canada, cut and bruised; E. J. Parnell, of Ontario, left leg broken; Mrs. E. J. Parnell, severely injured in head and knee; Mrs. J. F. Parnell, of Toronto, head cut; John Jeffreys, of Newark, head crushed, probably fatal; William Rice, aged four, of Philadelphia, leg broken, recovery doubtful, father, mother and sister, all killed; Mrs. Laura A. Finley, of Woolworth, New York, bruised about the head and face; Mrs. R. J. Warren, Grange, Michigan, bruised about the head and shoulders; Henry Burrows, of Pa., cut on head. The names of the other wounded persons are: Wm. Brinny, Mrs. A. M. Steel, Mrs. Thos. Clement, Mrs. B. B. Hart, Robt. Neill, Leopold Hoffman, Mrs. Geo. A. Jones, (one of her children, 18 months old, killed instantly and another badly bruised).

FURTHER PARTICULARS.
S. M. Sparklin, of Philadelphia, thinks his wife and children are among the dead. The engineer and fireman of the express train were literally torn to pieces, but the engineer and fireman of the switch engine escaped. The train was made up of 7 Wagner sleepers, 4 passenger cars and mail and baggage cars. The tender of the express engine was telescoped into the baggage car about half its length, and this car then forced its way into the mail car, and these crowded the first passenger coach to the right on the embankment and crashed back through the two following cars. The passengers in the first coach were comparatively unharmed, the harvest of death being reaped in the second and third coaches. The fourth coach escaped with slight damage, and none of the Wagner coaches were injured.

CAUSE OF THE ACCIDENT.
As near as can be ascertained, the accident was caused by the switchman having charge of the making up of the freight train at Jackson Junction, occupying the main track with the switch engine and cabooses, understanding that the Pacific express was considerably behind time. The express train, however, had nearly made up all lost time.

Crook's Idea of It.
The Tribune prints a letter from Gen. Crook, in which he says that Indians have no redress against lawless whites, even when agents are honest and appropriations sufficient. Under the Posse Comitatus Act the military arm of the Government is paralyzed. Whites seize Indians property and the owner has only a shadowy hope of recovery in the Courts. As affairs are now the Indian has no encouragement to be thrifty. When his horses and cattle are big enough to be of any service they are driven off in herds by white renegades. When his grain and vegetables are almost ready for market his reservation is changed.

New Law for Mining Notices.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The acting Commissioner of the Land Office has informed the district land officials at Deadwood that all mineral notices must be continuous. If published in a daily paper, 61 consecutive daily publications are required; if any omissions occur the publication must be begun de novo. This order is the outgrowth of the late fire at Deadwood which destroyed all newspaper offices and interfered with the publication of mineral claims as required by law for 60 days.

McKee's Fine Jacks.
All persons who take an interest in fine stock should, on visiting the Fair grounds, take a look at McKee's Jacks. There are no good points about a jack which his fine animals do not exhibit. They have all the good qualities which the most critical breeder could desire.
